

MRS. HANGLIN ACQUITTED.

Jury Finds She Did Not Murder
Esdorn Baby.

Mrs. Cora Hanglin of No. 54 Howard Street, Newark, was found not guilty by a jury in Newark yesterday of murdering the six-months Esdorn baby in her home last December. The jury voted 4 to 3 on the first ballot, 3 to 4 on the second and returned a verdict of acquittal on the third ballot at 2:45 P. M. The prosecution contended that Mrs. Hanglin caused the death of the baby, which was boarded in her home by its father, John Esdorn, from malnutrition, while she said it was accidentally burned to death.

The sign of a reliable dealer and the world's best Gasoline

SOCONY

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

MOTOR GASOLINE

Clean, straight-distilled gasoline with real power in every drop

See Friday's issue of the New York Evening World for a list of dealers who display the SoCony sign

Have him wear cool silk shirts all summer long

How to launder them beautifully, easily—yourself!

WHO thinks of sending men's silk shirts to the laundry nowadays? To have them come back faded, pulled out of shape, the lustre of the silk half gone! There's a better way—and much less expensive! Just whip up some delicate Lux suds and plunge in the silk shirts. No need to have a great many, for you can have one fresh and clean again for him the very same day!

Wash them in the rich Lux suds, repeatedly. The delicate Lux lather cannot wear away the fabric. They will look just as soft and fine and silky, fit just as comfortably at the end of the summer as the first time he put them on. Lux comes in pure transparent flakes that dissolve instantly in hot water and whisk up into a wonderful lather.

Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Lux will not harm any material that pure water alone won't injure.

To wash men's silk shirts

Use one tablespoonful of Lux to a gallon of water. Dissolve in boiling or very hot water; whisk up into a thick lather and add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Put the garment in, work it up and down, and squeeze the suds through it. Do not rub. Rinse three times in water the same temperature as the water in which you washed it. Roll in a towel to dry. While still damp, press with a warm iron, on a well-padded board. Pongee should be ironed when entirely dry.

No suds so wonderful as Lux for all fine laundering

Odds in Bottle Battle Heavily Against Frank; Given Decision Anyhow

Judge Tobias Declares Him Official Winner in East Side House-Wrecking Contest.

One wrecked house and the other built them. Curiously enough, according to the information gleaned by Judge Tobias in Essex Market Court yesterday, the house of John Jedigo, a house wrecker, was thrown into a turmoil by Frank Glacek, not a tearer down of the households and the hearths by profession, but the employee of a lumber yard—one who is supposed to be the ally of those who wish to "own their own homes."

Even after all was said and done, His Honor was inclined to award unqualifiedly the honors for immortal combat to Frank, the defendant. John had been bruised and broken, but Frank won the battle. And so had Mrs. Frank, as she frequently announced from the side lines.

"I have lived in the house for three years," declared John, "and Frank has only been there for one. And three times in those one year has he beat me up."

"What caused the trouble?" asked the Judge.

"They said there was a rough house and the landlady came up to see who had done it. Nobody was home but me and the baby. I goes down with baby in the arms, and all of a sudden appeared the wife of Frank wearing a blackjack."

THE WIFE TAKES A HAND IN THE CASE.

"Not at all, I should say," interrupted friend wife. "Never did I see it before."

"How many children have you?" asked the Judge of John.

"Four."

Then came an interpolation from the gallery, a suggestion from back stage, a comment from the side-lines. Mrs. Glacek was speaking. She was sitting tranquilly on the front bench until John declared to the world the number of his progeny. For some reason his answer started trouble.

"He wallops the man my husband on the dome with a black-jack and then begins to throw bottles at the whole of us. Probably my husband was struck in self-defense. Throwing bottles at each other they finished I should say."

"What is your occupation?" asked His Honor.

"House wrecking," declared John.

"Did you try to wreck this house?" "I should say no. It was my own house and he comes to it. He works in a lumber yard himself."

The defendant then took the stand and declared that the complainant had first struck his children, then hit him with a bottle, and had followed up the attack with a black-jack skinned.

"Did he hurt you?" "Take a look at me: I guess I was so dizzy I didn't know whether I was going or just came."

The loquacious wife was then allowed to open her flood-gates of speech. She bore a beautiful black eye which she claimed had been caused by three men all at once.

"I hit him on the head with the broom," she declared with more or less indignation.

NOT QUICK ENOUGH WITH THE BROOM.

"How did you happen to be hit in the eye?" asked Judge Tobias.

"He was coming after me with a jack and I got hit before I got the broom ready."

"You apparently both had the worst of it," said His Honor after surveying the combatants. "The thing that I can not understand is why the defendant did not bring the complainant to court. It must have been a one-sided affair and the complainant came out far ahead. Defendant discharged."

His Honor then appropriated the black-jack.

There has been much written about the underpaid condition of school teachers, about the meagre receipts of the country parson, but no one has yet voiced the cry for the improvement of the condition of a brave and worthy body of men—the Street Cleaning Department of New York. One of the representatives of this much maligned but praiseworthy profession was in pursuit of his duty on Eldridge Street at 2 A. M. the other night, when from a Jugo-Slavian saloon there issued the sinister form of Joe Levinsky.

READY TO RE-FIGHT ALL WAR'S BATTLES.

Levinsky had been celebrating the emancipation of his country from the tyranny of Austria, and was prepared in his own mind to re-fight all the battles of the great war. With his hat well back and his shoulders hunched he gazed belligerently upon the world; there was but one figure within striking range.

Levinsky advanced with the decision of Feck himself, and planted himself directly in the path of White-wing's brush and shovel.

"You are an Austrian!" he declared with a manner which did not admit of argument.

"I cleans da street," came the reply.

"Down with the Empire!" shrieked Levinsky.

"I pusha da cart," muttered our city servant.

Levinsky smelled treachery and threw strategy to the winds; the Street Cleaning Department went down for the count under the influence of a siphon which the belligerent patriot had been stealthily holding in reserve.

Naturally the final decision rested with Judge Tobias. The decision was reversed with a complete victory for White-wing.

"This man was in pursuance of his duty, he was offending no one; you should be charged with felonious assault."

"But I was joking only," murmured Levinsky. "Of his own accord he fell down."

"After you had persuaded him with a siphon," remarked the Judge, dryly.

"Five days in the Workhouse or $10 fine."

And Jerry, the court attendant, ushered Levinsky out with the remark that one particular form of patriotism was an expensive luxury.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett yesterday announced that he had named James F. Conroy of No. 169 Amity Street, Flushing, as his private secretary. The appointee is a well known newspaper man of Queens.

Barrett's New Secretary.

TWO B. R. T. MEN HELD FOR COLLISION ON "L"

Lexington Avenue Train Lights
Right—Motorman of Other
Late With Brakes, Is Charge.

Two employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company were under arrest yesterday in connection with the investigation of the cause of the rear-end collision of the Broadway "L" Line in Brooklyn late Monday night, in which forty persons were injured.

John Williams, motorman, was held in $2,000 bail in the Gates Avenue Police Court charged with suspicion of felonious assault. His hearing was set for July 1. Martin Steffens, conductor, who is at his home with broken ribs, is under arrest on the same charge.

Williams was the motorman of the Canarsie local which crashed into a Lexington Avenue local standing on the track. Steffens was the conductor of the Lexington Avenue train. Patrolman William Young, a passenger on the Canarsie train, said he saw a red lantern on the rear of the train ahead.

Assistant General Manager Menden of the B. R. T. issued a statement saying the Lexington Avenue train was properly equipped with tail lights, but the motorman of the Canarsie train failed to apply his brakes in time. The brakes of the Canarsie train were in good condition.

Keating's Son Asks Letters.

Application for letters of administration on the estate of James P. Keating, former Tammany district leader and close friend of Richard Croker, who died last May, were filed yesterday in the Surrogate's Court of Manhattan by his son Richard J. D. Keating, of No. 1434 East 17th Street, Brooklyn. The petition states that the deceased left an estate valued at $20,000 in personal and over $20,000 in real property.

If You Neglect Your Eyes

You'll surely regret it later on. You owe it to yourself to protect your eyesight NOW with Ehrlich glasses. Reliable Eyesight Examination by Registered Eye Specialists. Correctly Fitted Glasses, $3 to $10

Ehrlich & Sons
Established 37 Years

New York: 184 B'way, at John St.
235 Sixth Av., 13th St.
350 Sixth Av., 34th St.
201 Nassau, at Ann St.
17 West 43d Street
Brooklyn: 498 Fulton St., Cor. Bond St.

OPPENHEIM, COLLINS & C

34th Street—New York

Extraordinary Sale Thursday

800 Misses' Voile Dresses

Developed in sheer Voile in the season's newest effects; Foulard patterns, stripes, checks and conventional designs; surplice, straight line and tunic models with vestees and collars of Organdy.

Exceptional Value

5.75

Misses' Dept.—3d Floor

Positively No Alterations Made

OPPENHEIM, COLLINS & C

34th Street—New York

The Most Important

Millinery Sale of the Season

25.00 Value

Sale Price 10.00

Mid-Summer Hats of Charm

A notable collection, comprising distinctive modes of Black Chantilly lace and net, Georgette in white and pastel tints, picturesque Leghorns and large rough straws artistically trimmed with small field flowers.

Hats That Ordinarily Sell Up to 25.00

Special for Thursday 10.00

GRAND RAPIDS FURNITURE

CREDIT TERMS
$3.00 Down on $50.00
5.00 " " 75.00
7.50 " " 100.00
10.00 " " 150.00
15.00 " " 200.00
25.00 " " 300.00

FREE BASS BED
With Every Purchase
of $75.
$100 A WEEK OPENS AN ACCOUNT

Open Saturday Evening
104 ST. L. STATION AT CORNER

FISHER BROS
COLUMBUS AVE
BET. 103 & 104 ST